Two World's Champs at Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H., May 12.—The Dartmouth baseball team, consisting of two world champions, guarantees every freshman entering Dartmouth college a track "D"—providing he will work hard and faithfully.

And Hillman can point to past performances to back up his promise.

He has developed two world's champions—Marc Wright, holder of the pole vault record from 1912 to 1920, and Earl Thompson, whose hurdling titles are more numerous than his fingers.

He has produced a dozen or more Whitney, Harry Worthington, Lad-intercollegiate champions—Larry die Meyers, Zach Jordan, Abe Weld, Harry Enright, Bill Rees and more.

He has placed the green among the first four or five at the intercollegiate games ever since he has been at Dartmouth.

And he has won most of his dual and triangular contests.

Hillman was a star with the New York Athletic Club before he came to Dartmouth. He specialized in the hurdles and the jumping events, winning the Olympic titles in two of the former events at the international games at Athens in 1906. His list of A. A. U. championships was as long as a Monday morning shopper's list.

Dartmouth grabbed Hillman in 1910, just as the college was jumping into big-time athletics.

Recently, Hillman was made director of recreational activities at Hanover, a job which puts him in charge of the new program of athletics, which will eventually bring every student out on the athletic field in some sport or other.

At the same time he coaches the cross-country team, looks after the football team, and is in charge of the first four or five at the intercollegiate games ever since he has been at Dartmouth.

SINGER BASEBALL CLUB SIGNS MANY DIAMOND PLAYERS

Baker, Collamore, Kading, Saier, Claffey, Wolf, Lamberty, Touhey in Lineup.

South Bend baseball fans will have an opportunity to see some good baseball when the Singer baseball club opens the season at Singer park on Sunday, May 21.

An entirely new lineup will compose the Singer aggregation this season. Joe Baker, veteran catcher being the only member of the old guard back on the club. As now planned the team will present one of the strongest aggregations in the state and will be a real attraction.

Joe Baker will be behind the bat. He is well known to South Bend fans as a hustling, tenacious backstop, and went good last year and the year previous. He attracted attention of the Pittsburgh National league club and later signed for a trial with the St. Paul club of the American association.

Collamore to Pitch.

At Collamore, formerly with the Cleveland Americans, will hurl the opening game and efforts are being made to land him for the season after leaving Cleveland. Collamore pitched for Toledo in the association and last year for the Jackson "Briscoes."

Jack Kading, former Federal League and later with the Michigan City team, or Vic Saier, former Cub, will hold down the first sack. Either one of these men will give the team a hitting punch that should break up many games. Neither one of the men have been signed, but it is understood season contracts will be offered.

Joe Claffey, one of the fastest and most confident infielders ever turned out by South Bend will covet around second base. Joe has played semi-pro baseball outside of South Bend for the last few years and fans will welcome the opportunity of seeing the peppery little infielder again in action. Louis Wolf, formerly with Indianapolis in the American association, will play shortstop. Tom Touhey, considered the premier third sacker in local semi-pro circles will play third base. His great throwing arm and ability to knock down the hot ones have made him popular with the fans.

Lamberty in Garden.

Matt Lamberty, outfielder last year with the K. C. team in the Chicago City league will be in the outfield. Lamberty has a good arm, is fast and makes a specialty of beating out infield hits. "Sappy" Moffet, another well-known local product will be in one of the other outfield berths. Moffet has the reputation of being a good fly chaser and a fast aggressive ball player.

The other outfielder has not been signed. Another pitcher will also be signed, according to the dope and will round out a lineup that is expected to take on some of the best semi-pro teams in this section.

Louis Bacheller, business manager, is busy lining up the schedule and expects to book such teams as the Fairbanks-Morse, Dick Kerr's aggregation, the Pyrotes, Logan Squares and other teams from Chicago. The opening game for May 21 has not been scheduled for certain but efforts will be made, according to the management to make the opener a good one.

SHOW LEWIS' ARM HELD BY REFEREE

Fight Films Show Blow Came After Clinch—Say Georges Won Cleanly, However.

By CHARLES McCANN, (United Press Staff Correspondent).

LONDON, May 12.—Motion picture fans of the sensational fight Thursday night between Georges Carpentier and Ted Lewis snowed plainly that Lewis was knocked out with a punch delivered while the referee was holding his arm.

The pictures show Carpentier several times in the act of butting Lewis with his head while in the clinch.

The final blow that ended the fight a right-hand to the jaw, was delivered when the referee had one hand on the biceps of the Englishman and the other hand was pushing Carpentier back out of the clinch.

Both fighters were just getting free as the blow went over and Lewis seemed to have his hands down in the breakaway.

But "Georges Carpentier knocked out Ted Lewis with a fair blow," was the verdict today of a jury consisting of Referee Joe Palmer, Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, Jimmy Wilde, world's flyweight champion, and all London sport writers.

Joe Palmer, the referee, in a statement to the United Press said today:

"The final blow was perfectly fair. The men had broken from a clinch. It was Lewis' business to protect himself. He didn't do it."

Johnson Motor Wheel Club to Clash With Bremen Team

The Johnson Motor Wheel baseball club will journey to Bremen Sunday to play the Bremen Greens. This is the first clash of the two teams this season. Last year in a series between the two clubs the victories were about evenly divided.

The Motor Wheel aggregation has been strengthened for the coming season as have the Greens and a contest as exciting as the two teams only two clubs will be forced to the limit to get in the prize list. Three prizes will be given one each for the first, second and third best net scores.

MODERATE AMBITION.

All that Germany and Russia ask of the other powers is to leave them alone till they are in a position to lick the world.

Treated Unfairly, Lewis Says After Feeling K. O.

LONDON, May 12.—"I consider that I was treated unfairly by Carpentier," Ted ("Kid") Lewis was quoted today as saying by "Sporting Life." The Journal quoted Lewis further: "I am still convinced that I am a better man than the Frenchman."

Peggy Lands in U. S. With Denial of Wild Parties

Modern Cleopatra With $1,000,000 Gems and Gowns Protests "Lies."

NEW YORK, May 12.—"Lies! All damned lies!"

With arms flung aloft, tears of rage and mortification glistening in her eyes and as one small foot stamped in anger, Peggy Hopkins Joyce, noted as the modern Cleopatra, thus denied stories of heart-breaking, home-wrecking and wild parties in Paris on her arrival here from Europe today on the liner Mauretania.

It was a serious minded, sober and chastened Peggy that came back home from Paris. She brought with her more than $1,000,000 worth of gowns and jewels. She said she was going at once to Norfolk, Va., to visit and comfort her mother.

"Oh, I know what you are going to ask me," she exclaimed.

It was then she voiced her vigorous and emphatic denial.

Peggy is not flippant. She said her one trouble was that she had been too serious and thus got into trouble. She is not going to marry, least not for some time. The inspiration she gets from men is essential to her.

"Can't Live Without 'Em."

"I am not live without men," she exclaimed.

"I am not the flippant man hunter and home breaker and heart wrecker that I have been pictured in reports from Paris," Peggy continued.

"These reports have driven me nearly insane. My health is breaking. The only man I ever really loved has killed himself because of me."

She referred to "Billy" Erasmus, a youthful South American, and former attaché to the Chilean embassy in Paris, who committed suicide a fortnight ago in Paris after a gay party in which Peggy was a member.

Angry at Movie Ban.

"Oh, my poor Billy," sighed Peggy, clasping her hands.

When informed that the motion picture men had barred her from the movies, she was aghast. Her lips trembled as she exclaimed:

"Why, oh, why? I have not committed any crime. If it has come to this that my name is to be coupled with men charged with hideous crimes, then chivalry in America is dead. I am outraged. But I have faith and confidence in the American people and I know I will get a square deal."

It was at this point that Peggy made two interesting revelations. First, that she is going to see her lawyer about bringing libel and slander suits on account of some of the stories that have been published here about her, and second, that she has written a book. Nothing more was said about the book.

Peggy said it was untrue that Lieut. Rivas Nunt, military attaché to the Chilean legation in Paris, had tried to kill himself a few days ago because of her.

"Going Home to Mother."

Peggy herself indulged in a little philosophy, saying:

"My greatest trouble is that I have been too serious. If I had taken life more lightly, lots of things happened could not have taken place. Only serious people get into trouble."

"I came back because I wanted to get away from everything. I am going home to mother."

"But I have nothing against men. Every man is different from his fellow. Each has his own disposition. All of them treated me fairly."

"I am never going to marry again—"

Her reporters began to register intense interest, and Peggy rapidly added: "That is, not for some time."

Peggy said that she had received a number of moving picture offers, but had not made up her mind about them.

"I am in such a muddle now I don't know what I am going to do," she continued. "Oh, but I have gone through hell. All I want is a square deal."

Not Engaged to Letellier.

She was asked about Henri Letellier, millionaire Parisian newspaper owner, to whom she was reported engaged.

"I broke off with him when 'Billy' arrived in Paris," explained Peggy. "I loved Billy really and truly."

Peggy was asked if she could explain her fascination over men. She considered a moment and then replied:

"If I answered that, people would call me vain. If I refuse, they would see something subtle in my reticence."

She reverted again to the Paris rumors, especially the one that she had been ordered out of France for 20 years because of the Erasmus suicide.

"That is not true—lies, lies, lies," she exclaimed.

Peggy wore a marvellous sable coat and a more or less severe black dress that accentuated her flesh-colored stockings. Upon her head was a stylish French turban. Her troubles accumulated when the Mauretania docked, for she was greeted by a group of customs officials who, without ceremony, plunged into her trunks.

As Peggy had been in trouble with the customs officials once before they were taking extra precautions today. They rummaged through her numerous trunks, rumpling up costly, beautiful gowns while Peggy stood occasionally giving vent to angry and sarcastic comment and once in a while stamping her foot as her finery was so rudely disturbed.

Secrets of the Movies Revealed

Q—In what is the influence of moving pictures especially seen in American homes?

A—Especially in the interior, decoration of the home, the movies play an important part. It is stated on competent authority that nine-tenths of American homes in cities of less than 100,000 inhabitants get their ideas for beautifying the home from the screen. So true is this that it can be safely stated that motion pictures have come to be the arbiters in this matter.
